

A priest in purple vestments is speaking at a wooden pulpit during a church service. The pulpit features a large wooden relief carving of the Parable of the Sower. Other people, including young men in suits and a boy in clerical attire, are visible in the background.

